Thousands Stranded

Blizzard Rips New Mexico, Blocks Roads

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Roadblocks swung open in the Texas Panhandle and New Mexico today, allowing thousands of motorists to start inching slowly down icy roads between mountainous drifts.

The aftermath of the unexpected storm which lashed the Texas-New Mexico high plains and parts of the Rocky Mountain states left four dead, hundreds of minor accidents, and thousands of stranded tourists, many of them Rose Bowl-bound.

Power companies late Monday night completed restoration of electricity to the 30,000 of the city's 68,000 families, who were without power for varying periods after an 11 to 15 inch fall had blanketed the city.

The U. S. Weather Bureau reported all roads in the Texas Panhandle into New Mexico were open but icy this morning. That was the area hardest hit by the storm.

Tucumcari, in extreme northeastern New Mexico, had 11 inches on the ground this morning, and 25 inches fell at Conchas Dam 30 miles to the north. Drifts along U. S. Highway 66 in the Tucumcari area reached a depth of seven feet.

2,250 Tourists Stranded

Some 2,250 tourists were stranded in that town of 9,400 overnight. Motels and hotels were jammed, but few tourists took advantage of the emergency opening of the Tucumcari Armory and the offering of free cots to shelterless families. A few stayed in private homes.

State police said all New Mexico highways were open, but travel was dangerous and discouraging.

Four hundred of those stranded at Tucumcari were en route to the Rose Bowl game in California.

Albuquerque residents, unused to snow in any amount let alone the record fall, improvised to get along without power. Those with electric stoves were kept supplied with hot coffee and other hot food by neighbors with gas stoves or pressurized camping stoves. Since most of New Mexico's cities are heated by natural gas, no heating problems were reported.

Roads Remain Icy

Snow plows had cleared most of the heavy fall from rural areas, but both city and country roads remained icy.

Schools closed in much of northeastern New Mexico: Quay County schools remained closed for the second day, and Tucumcari shut down its schools at noon Monday

Cuban Revolt Spreading to Capital Area

Castro Carrying His War of Sabotage to Outskirts of Havana

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Rebels carried their war of sabotage to the Havana area today as an explosive accompaniment to the battle of Santa Clara in central Cuba.

A heavy blast rocked the town of Guanabacoa, across Havana Bay, just before dawn and awakened thousands of people in this capital, 10 miles away.

Arms Warehouse Blown Up

This was reported to have resulted from firing of a Cuban arms company warehouse, exploding stores of dynamite. There were rumors that seven soldiers on guard duty there died in the explosion.

Two smaller blasts were reported in the southern part of Havana.

Rebel sympathizers here say they have 5,000 armed partisans within the city. They declared there would be startling developments soon in Havana regardless of the outcome of rebel leader Fidel Castro's battle to seize Santa Clara and cut Cuba in two.

Fierce house-to-house fighting apparently persisted today in that capital of central Las Villas province.

Report Heavy Casualties

Informed sources said casualties were heavy on both sides. One private informant estimated nearly 1,000 men had been killed or wounded.

Rebel sympathizers were loudly proclaiming the victory was theirs.

Government sources were quietly confident that the rebels would be defeated in Santa Clara and anywhere else where they chose open battle with President Fulgencio Batista's troops.

Batista kept a round-the-clock watch on all war sectors. He divided his time between his offices in nearby Camp Columbia and the heavily fortified presidential palace in the heart of Havana.

Record High City Budget Is Proposed

1959 Appropriations Ordinance Calls for Total of $2,695,423

A recommendation that record high appropriations be approved for operation of the city and Marion General Hospital in 1959 will be submitted to City Council Jan 12 by the council finance committee.

Harold Smith (D-at large), committee chairman, said the decision to recommend the adoption of the appropriations ordinance as set up by City Auditor Elmer Shaw and Mayor Wendell L. Strong was reached at a meeting Monday night in the auditor's office.

Total expenditures of the city and hospital, as provided in the ordinance for next year, will be $2,695,423, compared with the $2,542,750 at the first-of-the-year appropriation approved last January.

Mr. Smith noted that the city's cash balance on Jan. 1 will be only $58,000. He compared this with the $113,000 cash balance listed on Jan. 1 this year. If the city's expenditures continue to mount at the present rate, the cash balance will dwindle to nothing within the next two or three years, he said.

The cash balance in the hospital fund also is on the decline, he noted. At the beginning of this year, the hospital had an operating surplus of $345,000, he said. On Jan. 1, the balance will be only about $320,000. This means that the hospital operating income during this year has been some

Profits Drop, Firm Says in Asking Boost

Increases To Range From 25 Cents to $2 Monthly in This Area

An application for telephone rate increases amounting to 75 cents a month for the majority of its party-line customers in Marion was filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio Monday by the General Telephone Co. of Ohio.

The company, which has headquarters here, also is asking to increase rates and charges for miscellaneous services and equipment including non-recurring installations, moves and changes.

Locally, the proposed rate increase would range from 75 cents to $1.25 a month for residential users and from 25 cents to $2 a month for business telephones.

The increases would boost the firm's gross revenues by about 18 per cent.

Sets New 2-Party Rate

The proposal also calls for establishment of a rate for a two-party line for customers in this area. It presently has no rate for such service. The proposed two-party line rate is $6.90 a month.

Clare E. Williams, company president, said: "Our application . . . proposes new general and local exchange tariffs for the purpose of effecting necessary revenue relief and establishing uniform and equitable rate patterns throughout the company's entire operations."

General has more that 190,000 telephones in operation throughout the state.

No Increases in 6 Years

Mr. Williams noted also that the company has had no local service rate increase in nearly six years during which time "there have been steady increases in wages and salaries and in the cost of materials, equipment and services which the company must buy for operation of the telephone system.

A week ago Friday, the company and the Communications Workers of America announced agreement on a new one-year contract covering 1,500 employes in 70 counties. Among other things, it provides wage increases up to 13 cents an hour, depending on where the employe works and his job.

Outlook Bleak On Finances, DiSalle Hears

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's financial situation is so bleak that the state may end its current fiscal period in June with a balance of "zero or less."

That was the news heard Monday by the cabinet appointees of Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle.

It came from the man who will be his finance director, James Maloon. Maloon called the state's financial pinch the "worst since the 1930's," when the state and nation were in the midst of a deep depression.

DiSalle had his cabinet here for a discussion of the coming administration's problems, and asked Maloon to tell all the department heads the dollar troubles they will be facing.

The new administration probably will inherit a deficit, and for at least six months, said Maloon, all departments will have to hold their spending under the levels originally designed in the last appropriation bills.

In June of 1957, Ohio ended a two-year fiscal period with a cash balance of 46 millions, said Maloon, but this time there is likely to be a deficit.

Claim Evidence Withheld

Charges Detailed In Sheppard Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Counsel for Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard charged today that evidence on a forced door, a mystery auto, missing photographs and conflicting blood factors was withheld in the Cleveland osteopath's wife-murder trial.

The charges were contained in a reply by attorney Fred W. Garmone to an Ohio Supreme Court request that the convicted wife-slayer's lawyers spell out what evidence allegedly was withheld — and by whom.

The charge that evidence was withheld originally was leveled in a habeas corpus action brought to the court as a part of the legal battle to free Sheppard from a life sentence in Ohio Penitentiary.

Sheppard was convicted of second-degree murder in the fatal bludgeoning of his pregnant wife Marilyn in their Bay Village home west of Cleveland, July 4, 1954.

The osteopath's attorneys claim material evidence beneficial to him was withheld during his widely publicized trial. During habeas corpus hearings, the Supreme Court ordered counsel to say by Dec. 31 what evidence was withheld and by whom. Garmone, in his answer today, told the court:

"The authorities in charge of the case were in possession of the following material evidence beneficial to the cause of the relator (Sheppard) which they concealed and suppressed":

1. Investigating authorities had evidence that an outer door of the Sheppard home had been forced from the outside although it was stated at the trial that there was no evidence of forcible entry. Garmone said investigators also had evidence that a catch on a window screen was broken and that a window fastener was unlocked.

2. The state contended no cars were parked on Lake road near the Sheppard home during the morning of the crime although a "dark-colored automobile" was parked near the home and authorities were so informed by an eyewitness.

3. Photographs taken by investigators in the Sheppard home were removed from files and not produced by the state when counsel called for them.

4. The coroner's office said tests of blood on Marilyn's watch disclosed a "B" factor which was not present in the blood of Sheppard or his wife. Presence of the "B" factor established that the blood on the watch came from a

Marine Trial Board To Hear More Evidence

Sergeant Is Accused Of Assault, Receiving Money From Recruits

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — More defense testimony was scheduled today in the general court-martial of a Marine sergeant accused of roughing up recruits and accepting payoffs from them.

The court-martial panel — composed of seven Marine officers—was expected to begin deliberating the case against S. Sgt. Ralph Grant later today.

The 26-year-old drill instructor from Racine, Wis., is charged with soliciting and receiving $230 from members of Ohio's Steel Valley recruit platoon. Two charges of assault are also leveled against him.

If convicted on all four specifications, the Korea combat veteran could be sentenced to a dishonorable discharge and 9½ years in prison.

She was one of five persons injured in city accidents.

Miss Maddocks was a passenger in a car driven by James Messenger, 21, of 544 E. George St., police reported.

Reports to Lions on Trip

Betts Says NATO Vital Defense Against Russia

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization is one of the world's most important bastions against Communist aggression, according to Rep. Jackson E. Betts, 8th District congressman.

Speaking before the Marion Lions Club Monday noon, Rep. Betts reviewed his trip to Paris last month with 17 other congressmen for a two-week NATO conference.

He said the experience was a revelation to him concerning the value and need of the organization, which he described as the unifying agent in the defense of the Western democracies.

Noting that his two weeks at the conference did not qualify him as an expert on foreign affairs, he added that district taxpayers are entitled to a report of his observations.

Rep. Betts said that he has always been skeptical of our "grandiose" scale of foreign aid but feels some aid is necessary as long as it is not so large as to send the U.S. into bankruptcy.

The whole concept of NATO is based on the East-West relationship and there are two methods employed in propagating the two ideologies, he said. The East has a "single purpose" propaganda program made possible by the dictatorial powers of the Communist governments, he said.

Because of the diversification of the types of democratic governments in the West, this single purpose program is not possible, he said. As a result the Western democracies must coordinate their

'Flight Into Space'

Dayton Reporter Takes Jet-Age Trip

Dayton, long famous for its part in the development of aviation, is the scene of considerable research into the countless problems facing man as he ventures into space. By personal experience, staff writer Doug Walker of the Dayton Journal Herald learned how fearful and exhilarating these problems are.

Here is the first of three installments of Walker's "Flight Into Space."

By DOUG WALKER
Dayton Journal Herald Staff Writer

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—I have just made a trip through space.

It was painful, it was terrifying, it was boring. But it was exhilarating.

I am glad it was done within the safe limits of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. Otherwise I have a suspicion I would not be writing this report.

First of a Series

Climbing to 100,000 feet altitude was frightening. The partial pressure suit was like a skintight room filled with pseudo-scientific tricks.

Paper Falls Like Lead

Water boiled when the altitude changed. I banged hands together at 100,000 feet and could hear only a thud. I dropped pieces of paper and they fell to the floor like lead sheets.

After pulling off a pressurized glove, then climbing to 90,000 feet my hand turned red and purple from under-the-skin hemorrhage. It puffed out from the lack of pressure.

Trying to turn it slightly brought excruciating pain. As I write this report my right hand still is red from the experience.

It was only after I was back down that I noticed a pinpoint or two of blood that had been forced from my hand.

I accomplished all this in a high altitude chamber wearing a pressure suit. I took the glove off to experience the sensation of no protection at such a staggering height. I was seated in an aircraft seat.

My journey was made possible by Maj. Gen. Stanley T. Wray, commander, Wright Air Development Center (WADC).

Every astronautical mile of the way I was watched over by scientists and medical men of WADC whose first interest was my safety. They saw to it that I returned safely from "outer space."

Climbed to 43,000 Feet

In the chamber we climbed to a height of 43,000 feet where the atmosphere is about one-sixth that of ground level.

At this height our bodies ballooned out because the pressure inside was six times as great as that of the chamber. We wore no pressure suits, only an oxygen mask.

At 43,000 feet oxygen must be forced into the lungs and an effort is required to exhale.

The feeling is unpleasant to the uninitiated and any one of a number of mistakes could mean trouble.

Without oxygen at this altitude, unconsciousness would occur in less than 30 seconds.

Space is a fearful thing. Rapid decompression is a very real hazard at today's altitudes.

Pumps compress air in the cockpits or cabins of today's high-flying aircraft to simulate a lower altitude. If a leak, or break, occurs in the cabin decompression immediately follows.

In the indoctrination chamber, we decompressed from 8,000 to 22,500 feet in a split second.

Resounding Boom

There was a resounding boom and a white haze appeared. The air was sucked out of our lungs, rippling through our lips. We put on our oxygen masks.

In another experiment, at 30,000 feet, we disconnected our masks and waited for the effects of hypoxia—lack of oxygen. At this altitude unconsciousness would follow in one or two minutes.

Judges Favor Dissolution

Conservancy District's Breakup Voted by Body

The Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District, which has weathered several storms since its formation in 1934, apparently has gone under at last.

By a 12-5 vote Monday, common pleas judges representing the 17 participating counties ordered the district dissolved, The Associated Press reported today. Some $314,000 assets on record at the end of last month must be returned to the counties in proportion to their contributions, the order stated.

Pretzman To Fight It

However, there are indications efforts will be made to halt the breakup, Columbus attorney Allen I. Pretzman, counsel for the district, said Monday court action—probably filed in the 10th District Court of Appeals—may be the next step.

Pretzman said he thinks the judges "acted prematurely and contrary to state law."

The motion to dissolve the district was made by Judge John P. Case of Fayette County and seconded by Judge O. W. Whitney Jr. of Delaware County.

Voting for the breakup were Judges Myron B. Gessaman (Franklin), John C. Carroll (Crawford), Whitney, Case, Darrell R. Hottle (Highland), Gerald A. Baynes (Madison), Paul D. Smith (Marion), Bernard J. Hawk (Sandusky), Leland Rutherford (Morrow), C. C. McKay (Seneca), Luther Liggett (Union) and Russell H. Kear (Wyandot).

Voting to maintain the district were Judges William Ammer (Pickaway), Earl D. Parker (Pike) Howard Goldsberry (Ross), Vernon Smith (Scioto) and C. W. Smith (Vinton).

Two new directors, James H. Parriell of Washington Court House and Clyde Lewis of Delaware, were named by the judges. Their main duty will be to carry out the breakup order.

Marion Attorney Howard F. Guthery, a director for a number of years, was one of those replaced in the election. He said he had asked the court to relieve him of his duties.

Reports on Disbursements

Pretzman said some additional disbursements have been made since Nov. 30, date of a report from which he estimated the assets. Thirteen of the 17 counties made contributions, he said, with Franklin County the largest contributor. Union, Delaware, Seneca and Fayette Counties made no payments, he added.

The district was formed because waters of the Scioto River, which flows south into the Ohio,

Alaska Will Join Union This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alaska will be proclaimed the 49th state and a new design for the American flag will be announced by the end of the week.

Alaskans arranged hurriedly for a solemn observance for their territory's admission after the White House announced that President Eisenhower would issue the statehood proclamation sometime this week.

Reports circulated in the Alaskan capital of Juneau that the action would come Saturday.

Hagerty said the proclamation will be accompanied by an executive order redesigning the Stars and Stripes for the addition of the new state. A screening committee has received nearly 2,000 suggestions for changing the flag. The new flags will go into use next July 4.

The presidential proclamation is all that remains to complete the statehood process. Alaska has finished all formalities preceding admission.

Other relatives from the area in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Weiser are a great grandmother, Mrs. Kathryn Baseler of near Marion.

Fred Haas Retiring as Star Printer

He Began Working at 14 On German Language Weekly Newspaper

Fred P. (Dutch) Haas, who has devoted most of his life to the newspaper business, will help put together his last edition Wednesday before retiring from The Marion Star where he has been a composing room employe for the last 35 years.

A native of Marion, Mr. Haas was born April 17, 1893, and began his newspaper career 14 years later with the Deutsche Presse, a German language weekly. The paper stopped printing in 1918 and Mr. Haas enlisted in the Army. He served in Europe with the Sixth Division until June, 1919.

THE FOLLOWING September he joined the composing room staff of the old Marion Tribune and was employed there until the newspaper was consolidated with The Star in 1923

At The Star, he has handled virtually every job in the composing room with the exception of operating a linotype machine. He has worked on page make-up exclusively for some 10 years.

A past commander of the Caledonia American Legion Post, Mr. Haas was chef de guerre of the 40 et 8 in 1944. He is treasurer of the Prospect Street Methodist Church, secretary-treasurer of Local 675, Marion Typographical Union, and a former trustee of the Chapel Heights Memorial Gardens Association.

He was married Aug. 22, 1920, to the former Miss Sylvia Roesch, who died in 1952. They had three children: Mrs. William (Frances) Bomberger of 1229 Indiana Ave, Dever of 209 Sunset Rd. and Fredric of 250 Reed Ave.

Both his daughter and son-in-law are employed at The Star. Mrs. Bomberger is society editor and her husband is a compositor.

On May 12, 1956, Mr. Haas married the former Mrs. Pearl Barrett. They reside at 202 Forest Lawn Blvd.

DURING HIS more than 50 years in the business, Mr. Haas has helped get out about a dozen extras, now virtually a thing of the past. The most stirring of these, he recalled, was the one which followed President Harding's death in 1923.

Within 30 minutes after the news of his death broke in Marion, E. Center St. was completely jammed from State St. east to the Epworth Methodist Church, he said.

And helping to make the event more memorable from a newspaperman's point of view was the fact that the same afternoon the composing room had been ordered to scrap several galleys of type which had been set as standby obituary material about the President.

As for the future, Mr. Haas said he plans to "tinker in the garden and do some traveling" in between backward glances over the half century he spent in back shop newspapering.

ENDING A LONG CAREER in the newspaper business, Fred P. Haas makes up one of his last pages in The Marion Star composing room. He will retire Wednesday after more than 50 years of service in the profession, 35 of them at The Star. He began his career in 1907 at the age of 14 with the Deutsche Presse, a former German language weekly in Marion. He was with the Marion Tribune from 1919 until it was consolidated with The Star in 1923.

BUCYRUS — Earle A. Wiener, of Grove Ave., Galion, is named defendant in a $5,100 action for money filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here by Fraser Realty Co., Cleveland.

However, the plaintiff maintains that Wiener refuses to pay the commission due it for arranging the lease.

The Essenden Corp. of Galion, a corporation allegedly formed by Wiener, also is named a party defendant in the action.

Ex-Delaware Doctor Dies in Columbus Jail

Services Are Slated Wednesday at 2 p.m. For Dr. Blydenburgh

DELAWARE — Funeral services will be held at the McKee Funeral Home in Delaware Wednesday at 2 p.m. for Dr. George Dean Blydenburgh, 37, formerly of Delaware who died in Columbus City Prison Sunday night.

Dr. Blydenburgh had been arrested by Columbus police Dec. 22 on a charge of physical control of an auto while intoxicated. He became violently ill while in the jail about 15 minutes before he died. He had been too ill before that to appear in court to answer the charges filed against him.

Died of Natural Causes

An autopsy indicated he died of natural causes after suffering a severe attack of delirium tremens, but a final ruling on the death was withheld pending complete examination.

Dr. Blydenburgh's death brought about a cry in Columbus for the establishment of a receiving ward where sick patients can be taken for treatment. A similar plea in 1950 resulted in a plan to send some mentally ill persons to the Columbus Receiving Hospital for care. However, no provisions were made for the physically ill prisoners.

Dr. Blydenburgh had been residing in Cambridge and practicing in Byesville southeast of there.

Columbus officials reported there were bruises on his body but said they apparently were caused by his thrashing about shortly before he died. There was no evidence of foul play, they said.

His mother, Mrs. George T. Blydenburgh of Delaware, said she had not known her son had been arrested until notified of his death Sunday night. She said he had been having heart trouble.

Born in China

Dr. Blydenburgh was born Sept. 5, 1921, in Peking, China. His father, the late Dr. George T. Blydenburgh, was serving there as a medical missionary. He attended Ohio Wesleyan University and received his medical education at the University of Cincinnati.

Dr. Blydenburgh saw service during World War II and served with the Air Evacuation Command in the South Pacific. After the war he practiced in Delaware until four years ago when he moved his practice to Byesville.

He was a member of Asbury Methodist Church, Phi Delta Theta fraternity at Ohio Wesleyan University and Nu Sigma Nu medical fraternity.

Surviving with his mother are a brother, Stuart Blydenburgh of Cleveland, and a sister, Mrs. James I. Patterson of Royal Oak, Mich.

Officiating at the services Wednesday will be the Rev. Thomas L. Cromwell of Asbury Methodist Church. The services will be followed by cremation. Friends may call at the McKee Funeral Home after 7 tonight.

Hoffa Bids To Organize New York City's Police

NEW YORK (AP)—The Teamsters Union intends to picket city police headquarters, starting Jan. 12, in a drive to organize the police into the union.

Henry Feinstein, a Teamsters official, said the picketing would be extended to all police installations, including 80 precinct stations in the city.

Feinstein said the picketing is aimed at Politice Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy, who opposes unionzation of the police.

Politics and Policies Under Fire

Hoffa Is Facing Federal Squeeze on Two Fronts

By VICTOR RIESEL

Jim Hoffa, bitter and enraged behind the scenes of the great marble Teamsters' castle, has been telling intimates and his lawyers, too, that he can take on the entire government single handedly. He's going to get his chance.

VICTOR RIESEL

In coming weeks, he'll be in a pincer. The Justice Dept. will again try to jail him — probably on charges of violating the Corrupt Practices Act by overspending union funds on politicians.

And civil courts will tell him to clean up sections of the Teamsters or get out along with his entire high command.

For months now the FBI and government accountants have been going over his books to learn where there have been violations.

The Treasury Dept. has been in on the probe. So has the Criminal Division of the Justice Dept. which is seeking evidence of perjury before the McClellan committee.

OTHER FEDERALS have been searching into reports that Hoffa has spent over $110,000 in political campaigns in five states.

These are the contributions of record. There may have been lots of other political handouts. The attorney general's aides report that they will present what they have to a grand jury sometime in January.

But this will be a long bout. Jimmy H. will be able to work out in some preliminaries long before he steps into another battle with "Justice." His first fight comes up at 10 a.m. on Jan. 5 in Judge F. Dickinson Letts' courtroom.

That morning the monitors through their chairman, Martin O'Donoghue, will present a 20-page document to the bench.

This will be a definitive work on Jim Hoffa's defiance of all comers, all probes, all orders. It will be "the findings of fact" ordered by the court when Judge Letts ruled that the monitors have the power to tell Hoffa where to disinfect.

JUDGE LETTS told Mr. O'Donoghue to get the facts — some 50 or 60 of them — and bring them in. They'd have come along earlier but Hoffa's dashing lawyer, Ed Bennett Williams, has slipped a disc and painfully asked for delay until next month.

On the morning of the 5th the judge will instruct Hoffa to take action on all the "findings of facts" of defiance.

If Hoffa disobeys, the monitors will petition the court for his removal. The judge has indicated this will happen.

Along with Hoffa will go his high command, the Teamsters executive council. At the moment, insiders believe that Judge Letts will appoint a new executive board.

The new board may not be any better than the old board. So they'll be removed. But that won't interfere with the final objectives of the court and the judge's monitors. All they want is time.

They need enough days to get a fool-proof auditing system, with an automatic machine clamp on each dollar, set up in each local. Then they need time to revamp the by-laws to assure democratic election procedures in each of the Teamsters' 900 units.

ONCE THE MONITORS get the Honest Ballot Assn. in to count votes and once the eligibility lists are protected and once the rank-and-file is assured that they can run for office without being hounded or hurt, the monitors believe that a strong opposition to Hoffa will develop. And a successful opposition, too, they say.

They point to the unreported defeat of many of Hoffa's candidates in Dec. 14 elections in several New York locals.

These had been considered tough Hoffa ballwicks. One of them, the Railway Express local, has been led for years by a John MacNamara.

It was husky Johnny "Mac" who hoisted Hoffa to his shoulders at the last Teamster convention in Miami. MacNamara, a friend of Johnny Dio, is now out on bail.

He ran for office on Dec. 14. Instead of winning overwhelmingly, he ran into a tie vote. There'll be a runoff. The odds are against him.

Hoffa's men lost in a beer deliverers unit and in the coal and fuel drivers outfit. The monitors say this will begin recurring right across the land as elections come up each year and men stand up to be counted — in a straight count.

Demise of Gleason Show Unmourned

Jackie Gleason, an introspective fellow, took a hard look at his TV production and wisely determined to call it a day.

Marie Torre

After the performance of Jan. 2, the three-month-old "Jackie Gleason Show" will be no more — a victim, you might say, of TV's inherent limitations in the area of weekly comedy.

It's unlikely the show will be mourned, least of all by Gleason, who now publicly admits that it was a faulty endeavor and "I've known it since the third week of the show."

The critics, of course, have been aware of the program's shortcomings since its opening but none of the critics got to the heart of the matter as perceptively as Gleason did during a reflective moment recently.

"Anytime quality has a deadline," said Gleason, "it's got to deteriorate. You can strive for quality week in and week out but you won't often get it because it can't be manufactured within a specified time. Quality is a luxury that requires care and unlimited time."

IN THE FUTURE, Gleason's long reach for perfectionism is expected to be noted in four special shows to be scheduled irregularly on CBS during 1959, the first in April.

These he agreed to do for CBS in return for the network's permission to quit his weekly show—and both network and sponsor were willing parties to Gleason's withdrawal plans.

"They were all delighted, and I was relieved," remarked Gleason. "The kind of show I want to do can't be done in a half-hour. It's too little time for comedy-variety, a sheer impossibility. And why fight it anymore?

"I long ago learned that there are two ways of working your way out of show business — press when you're laying an egg and press when you need more time."

"My crew? They'll all be taken care of. I insisted that each of the people with me, Buddy Hackett and the rest, get paid off for the run of their contracts."

The quartet of special Gleason shows in '59 will be devoted to varied entertainment — a drama, a musical, an original production written by the comedian, and last, a show called "Mardi Gras."

GLEASON SPOKE of these projects with unalloyed enthusiasm and we wondered if he'd had a change of heart concerning his recently-stated hope of joining with Arthur Godfrey next season on a regular basis for a continuation of their humor-filled chats.

"Not at all, I could do both," he rejoined. "One thing is unrehearsed and offers fun, the other is fully produced and offers professional satisfaction. What a wonderful thing it's going to be to have the time and money to prepare those specials."

Gleason echoes the sentiments of most of today's comedians. The notable development of this current television season, as a matter of fact, has been a crystallization of the working pattern of The Comedian — and specials, rather than weekly offerings, appear to be the thing.

Sid Caesar proved it this season, George Gobel would like to, and Gleason expects to in the New Year.

BOB HOPE'S filmed trip to Moscow last March will be repeated on NBC Jan. 25 "by popular demand" and it's one time "bpd" can be believed.

Maria Callas, Victor Borge, and conductor Sir Thomas Beecham become the first trio of conversationalists on Ed Murrow's "Small World" to rate a two-part broadcast (Jan. 4 and 11).

Murrow and associates consider the conversation of these musical giants so volatile and entertaining —an opus major, as it were—that they decided to hold them over.

"Ellery Queen," NBC's favorite private eye show has doubled its opening rating (to a 15.8), meaning that shows can build if given the time to catch on. "Queen's" low rating in the beginning almost resulted in a cancellation.

Ben Grauer and his wife (Melanie Kahane, interior and industrial designer) team up for a new program, "Decorating Wavelengths," to be broadcast as part of the NBC Radio Network's "Nightline" starting Jan. 5.

CBS's highly touted "Nutcracker" on Christmas night, while visually a thing of beauty, was geared to a children's audience — and how many children are permitted to sit by a television set between the hours of 9:30 and 11 p.m.?

HIRED MAN. Ty Hardin seems more than willing to accept a job offered to him by lovely Grace Raynor in this scene in Warner Brother's "Freeze-Out" episode for the "Cheyenne" television series. This program may be seen at 7:30 tonight over Station WTVN, Channel 6.

Pleads Innocent

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor-dancer Dan Dailey, 43, has pleaded innocent to a drunk driving charge and a jury trial is set for Feb. 5. He was arrested Sunday after police said he tussled with them at the scene of a minor traffic accident.

Indiana Hunting Mishap Fatal to Ohio Youth, 14

LIBERTY, Ind. (AP)—An Ohio youth has been killed in a shooting accident which occurred while he and two companions waited for someone to pick them up after hunting.

Police said Bobby Peters Parrett, 14, of College Corner (Butler and Preble Counties), Ohio, had been hunting Monday near Cottage Grove in this area. As he and Robert Gregory and Tilman Bowling waited, they said, they began putting empty shells in their guns and pulling the triggers.

Gregory told officers he forgot he had reloaded his shotgun, and fired. Parrett was hit in the face.

Wisdom To Know the Difference

Before 1959 has shed its calendar leaves, the political campaign of 1960 will be in lively motion.

Members of the 86th Congress, when they convene next month, will have their eye on coming events in everything they say and do.

More than ever before, voters whose principles and prejudices are being conditioned from day to day for the next election will need to know what is going on in Washington.

They will need to know, particularly, how the people who will be making the political news of the next 12 to 18 months should be classified in the "splinter-party" system that lies beneath the bland exterior of the two-party system; how each of the two major parties is divided and subdivided into its component parts.

For example, they must know the difference between a labor-leader politician who calls himself a Democrat and a bona fide old-line Democrat who tells his constituents he is friendly to unionism.

They must know the difference between a Republican like Gov.-elect Rockefeller in New York and a Republican like Sen. Goldwater of Arizona. Both are Republicans, but there is a world of difference between them.

THERE IS ANOTHER world of difference between human-rights liberals, who try to carry out the principles of the Constitution's Bill of Rights, and money liberals, who frequently ride roughshod over human rights in their haste to make the American people increasingly dependent on various forms of state capitalism.

There are stand-patters, who see no reason to change for the sake of change, and backward-lookers who try to turn things around and make progress in reverse. It is necessary to know the difference between them, too.

Equally important is the difference between progressives who believe in progress and reject everything that does not lend itself to progress and another kind of self-styled progressive who thinks motion, itself, is progress, regardless of the direction it takes.

There is one breed of politician that thrives on overthrowing by brute force, another breed that specializes in undermining by slow degrees.

There are hair-splitters and Constitution-challengers. There are states-righters and individual-wrongers.

There are the planned economists, now being heard from, who would like to run all enterprise by politically rigged decrees issued in Washington. Then there are the planned economizers who live in dread of the day when federal spenders may have led the nation into such deep water it will have to sink or swim with them.

THERE ARE realists and romanticists — and there are victims of obsessions who say they are realists and chowder-headed dreamers who think of themselves as romanticists.

There are treasury watchdogs, and their mission in government is to be on the lookout for treasury raiders. There are money-taxers whose pat answer to every problem is to sweat more blood out of taxpayers and patience-taxers whose standard reaction in every dilemma is to try to blow it to pieces with oratory.

And mixed in with all the others is the hard-to-classify politician who does the best he can without regard to what he is supposed to be—the one who knows when to spend, when to save, when to stand pat and when to move. It takes all kinds to make a representative democracy and millions of informed citizens to know the difference.

The Sheriff's Plight

Something should be done, and quickly, about the Marion County sheriff's cars.

Sheriff Glenn Obenour has reported that all three are in poor condition, only one is capable of high speed operation, and that only in an extreme emergency.

This is roughly equivalent to the plight of an old-time western sheriff with a horse slowed to a walk.

Criminals on the run are not apt to have emotion, except glee, over a sheriff's department whose cars are incapable of chasing them.

Accidents and other emergencies require equipment that can take the sheriff and his deputies to the scene with all possible speed.

The major point at the moment is not particularly to assign the blame for the situation, although there admittedly is a difference of opinion between the county commissioners and the sheriff.

The first order of business now is to take whatever steps are necessary in the repair and replacement of the cars, and without delay.

Expansion by Political Edict

A Kremlin announcement that Soviet production facilities will be expanded by a vast program of government spending brings the cold war against the United States down to rock-bottom economics.

Production facilities in the United States are expanded by private spending, except in wartime. Expansion by political edict is unknown—or has been in the past.

Whether or not it continues to be unknown in the future will depend on which direction the United States moves in the next few years.

THERE EXISTS, in and close to Congress a determined group of Democrats clamoring for a vast program of U.S. Government spending to step up the cold war against the Soviet Union.

The forthcoming "battle of the budget" in Washington is, in effect, a showdown between public spenders and private spenders. Public spenders say taxes must be boosted to give the government more money to spend. Private spenders say taxes must be reduced to give them more money to spend so they can make more profit, thereby providing more revenue.

Public spenders believe the government should support itself in any style to which its politicians may become accustomed, but private spenders believe government spending must be held closely in check lest it drain too much wealth away from private enterprise which, in the long run, is the only source of national wealth.

THIS IS THE issue between the United States and Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. This is the issue between socialism and capitalism.

While the Russian hierarchy strives to bring a socialist state up to the economic level of its capitalist competitor, Americans who think like socialists are striving to reduce a capitalist state to the politically controlled economics of its socialist competitor.

Even Americans who do not think like socialists are trapped in the confusion of purposes, because national defense, which accounts for more than half the federal budget, has become untouchable. They feel they must give militarists whatever they say they require for security.

This gives the government of the United States virtually the same power over economic welfare that Russia's system of socialism gives the Kremlin.

But in the United States, taxpayer-voters still hold the ultimate power of decision. They are able to decide at what point they will not bear further taxes, or continue in office a government administration that has misused its spending power.

They mark the difference between socialism, which in practice is government by edict in the name of the people, and capitalism, which is government by consent of the people who produce the wealth on which government sustains itself.

IT IS THE U.S. taxpayer who is really fighting the cold war against the Soviet Union; he is the prime target of attack not only by socialists in Russia but by socialists in the United States.

If he could be roped, tied, gagged and broken in spirit, he could be made to share the people's poverty here without a whimper, as he does in Russia. The politicians could milk him like a cow.

But as long as he retains his liberty as an individual to squawk against exorbitant taxes and to throw out politicians who have been spending his money, socialism in the United States is impossible. The cold war never can be settled by making the United States indistinguishable from the Soviet Union.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Washington announces average American family, mainly with one wage earner, now, gets $5,000 a year or enough to keep him dissatisfied, unhappy and grumbling. How many getting $100 weekly owe most of it before they receive it is not known.

Twenty million people are in the $5,000 to $10,000 bracket or the class which can fill the gas tank, trade in the auto oftener and order a shrimp cocktail with dinner.

FOUR MILLION get around $15,000 and in the dizzy American economy most of these probably complain they, too, are ROUGHING it and need SYMPATHY. After $15,000 a man gets his financial troubles wholesale and begins to be jealous of the fellow who has only $5,000 or $10,000 a year worth of tax problems.

Five thousand a year was, up to 25 years ago, more or less, big money and a man getting it was in the chips. It stamped him as a member of the Man-To-Be-Envied Club.

It assured him a place on the golf club board of directors and gave him a front chair in the window of the Union League Club. He had arrived and could even have a big house with a finished-off attic and walls that didn't bend or warp.

Anybody who got $10,000 a year went to Europe twice a year, had an iron deer on the lawn, belonged to two yacht clubs and was rich enough to be sued for alimony by a third wife.

Nobody but Rockefeller, the elder Harriman and Charlie Schwab got more than $10,000 a year, it seemed.

IT'S HARD TO REALIZE that not many years ago $50 a week was considered a fat envelope by most people and millions got along very well on $25. This writer got $3 a week on his first job and treasures a note saying, "In appreciation of your first year's work we are giving you a raise to $5 a week unsolicited."

The hours were 8 to 5 and the wages 5 to 8, they used to say. We got to be managing editor of the paper at $50 a week and thought we had struck gold. The job required seven days a week — six days, plus a Saturday night to 2 a.m. for the Sunday edition.

Goldfine's Sentence

By David Lawrence

There's something pathetic and tragic about Bernard Goldfine. If he were a Communist or Communist sympathizer, he would have plenty of defenders, including various "civil liberty" organizations which would be crying out loudly that there is a man being denied his constitutional rights.

Lawrence

This correspondent has never met Mr. Goldfine nor had any relations with him or his businesses but feels that he is entitled to a fair deal in the courts. It is cruel to "lynch" him and fasten upon him a stigma for life when he has not been given a trial by jury as guaranteed him by the Constitution. Nor has he been tried in an atmosphere free from prejudice or prejudgment, as the rules of court procedure require.

Federal Judge Wyzanski, in effect, conceded this in open court last week when, in pronouncing sentence, he said:

"I am not unmindful that when persons of political consequence get into difficulty the whole community holds a sadistic spirit."

The judge also said he wouldn't make the sentence as long as one year, because this would require presidential action to get a pardon and could drag the matter further into the realm of politics.

Not so long ago Dennis Delaney, U.S. collector of internal revenue at Boston, was convicted on a criminal charge and the U.S. Court of Appeals there set aside the verdict and ordered a new trial at a later date because a congressional investigation on the same subject was going on at the time.

THIS WAS RULED to be an influence that would make it difficult for the defendant to get a fair trial.

What are the real issues in the Goldfine case?

First, the New England textile manufacturer refused to answer certain questions asked by a congressional committee. Four eminent lawyers advised him these were irrelevant questions and that the committee had no constitutional right to compel answers.

Also, the congressional committee asked the questions at the same time that minority stockholders in the company under inquiry had filed suit. The federal judge had under advisement at that time whether to approve or disapprove the settlement offered by Mr. Goldfine. It was finally approved but the basic constitutional question is whether a congressional committee may interfere in a matter that is being coincidentally tried in the courts.

This has often been held to be an encroachment on the judicial process.

Second, the Securities and Exchange Commission ordered certain data to be filed immediately by Mr Goldfine, and he complied two weeks after the order was issued.

For a technical delay, he was made the subject of a court suit. It was amicably settled by his payment of the expenses involved in the proceedings.

THIRD, MR. GOLDFINE was ordered by the Internal Revenue Service to deliver his accounts for several years back in five of his companies. He delivered the papers and then asked for six months in which to work over those same papers in order to prepare his tax returns. To delay payment on income tax returns is not in itself a crime but does involve a fine and accumulated interest if the delay cannot be justified.

Mr. Goldfine was given 60 days by the court to work on his papers. He then produced nearly a ton of papers but withheld seven books needed for current operations.

The judge ordered him to surrender them to the Internal Revenue Service.

Instead, Mr. Goldfine's lawyers produced them in court and argued that they had a right to retain the originals while submitting photographic copies to the Internal Revenue Service.

The judge disagreed and, instead of imposing a fine as is customary in such cases, sentenced Mr. Goldfine to jail.

The latter had complied for all practical purposes with the court order but not at the exact moment or in the technical form demanded by the judge. Yet on this narrow ground a prominent business man is being branded throughout the country as a criminal and given a jail sentence.

The Constitution says that "in all criminal prosecutions" a citizen is entitled to a trial by "an impartial jury." No exceptions are mentioned. Otherwise, the judge in criminal contempt cases becomes the accuser as well as the prosecutor and the "jury."

Predictions for 1959

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

It is time again for our annual peek into the crystal ball at the prospects for the year ahead.

And the forecast is "Everything fine in '59." But with some reservations.

HAL BOYLE

Almost everybody who is working will earn a little more money, but even the Joneses will find it harder to keep up with themselves.

Business and the cost of living will rise hand in hand. Politicians of all parties will sternly call for more economy in government — and then sit down and vote more money all around.

THE TWO WORDS people will be most weary of by 1960 are "inflation" and "taxes."

The cold war will remain about as peaceful as it has in the past, but defense costs will go up in every country as every day uncovers a new international crisis. In the rest of the world people will riot for bread or power—and in America for the goalposts after football games.

A few other predictions:

In March the United States will startle the world by firing into space the first satellite containing a talking dog. In April the Soviet Union will reply by shooting up a satellite containing a talking parakeet and a chorus of singing mice, all perched on the back of a talking horse.

In China, 250,000 people weary of communal living, will stage a friendly protest march on Peiping —and that is the last that will ever be heard from them.

IN WASHINGTON, D. C., these things can be looked for:

A congressman will receive a citizens' award for spending more time at his job than in preparing to run again in 1960. He'll lose in 1960.

President Eisenhower will hold a massive children's Easter egg hunt on the White House lawn—and recover 612 lost golf balls.

Forecasts about people:

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will make a trip by train. Nikita Khrushchev will go on the water wagon. Elvis Presley will get promoted to sergeant and write a book on Army life entitled, "Three Stripes and You're Out."

All in all, quite a year—1959.

U.S. Space-Conscious

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

A quick glance back through 1958 shows vividly how, in a year's time, the nation and the government became terribly conscious of outer space and the need to conquer it.

There had been years of work on rocket and outer space projects. But then suddenly in the fall of 1957 the Russians shot their Sputniks aloft. It was both a shock and a baptism in humiliation for the United States.

Instantly there was this broad public reaction: "How did it happen and what can we do?" Out of this dismay there has sprung in a year's time a whole new batch of agencies, councils and committees concerned with the space age.

AS A STARTER President Eisenhower on Nov. 7, 1957, created a new job—special assistant to the President for science and technology — and picked for it Dr. James R. Killian Jr., president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

His tasks were many, among them helping to eliminate interservice rivalry in the missile and related fields, and mobilizing scientific talent for the nation's scientific defense program.

He is technical adviser to the President and to Eisenhower's National Security Council—a kind of second Cabinet concerned with defense — and is chairman of the President's Science Advisory Committee, a group of scientists.

ONLY LAST WEEK, after a 10-month study, this committee recommended to Eisenhower creation of a federal council for science and technology to promote closer cooperation among federal agencies in planning their development and research programs. The group suggested also Killian be named head of the council. Eisenhower approved.

But in between the appointment of Killian in the fall of 1957 and the recommendation of the advisory committee last week these were some of the other things that happened:

In July the House and Senate both voted to create new standing committees on space and science. The House committee has 25 members, the Senate 15.

THIS ACTION was taken just a few days after both houses approved creation of a brand new government agency: NASA — the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Its purpose: to supervise civilian space age efforts.

The Defense Department will continue to control space activities connected with national defense. The President will settle any dispute between NASA and the Defense Department.

Eisenhower appointed T. Keith Glennan as head of NASA. Actually, the agency is under Eisenhower's direct control, with the advice of an eight-member council. On this council, besides Eisenhower and Glennan, are the secretaries of state and defense, the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, a federal official who could be a military or nonmilitary man, and three outside members appointed by the President.

IN ADDITION, the Defense Department set up the new Office of Director of Research and Engineering, under Dr. Herbert York, a physicist, and an Advanced Research Projects Agency under Roy Johnson. ARPA's job is with space flight for the military.

The State Department, finally realizing that its handling of foreign affairs in this age can't be divorced from scientific development, got itself a science adviser, Dr. Wallace R. Brode, and recently assigned seven scientists as attaches in American embassies overseas.

One Easy Lesson

By Truman Twill

The fastest growing problem in the land of the free is what to do with the "rejects."

When the U.S. Army let it be known it was dropping misfits after they already had been recruited and drafted, that clinched the case.

For thousands of years, military service has been a last chance for people who did not measure up to service standards for other occupations. A man always could carry a gun.

But with gun-carrying becoming a skilled occupation, too, the unskilled and unskillful citizen is going to find a traditional open door closed.

He already had been shut out of agriculture and industry, two other sanctuaries. There is no place in mechanized agriculture for an all-thumbs guy, and the pick-and-shovel gang is disappearing.

It is not altogether a question of mental ability, though ability to learn has heavy bearing. First of all, it is a question of developed skill.

When the chips go down, there is a premium on the job-seeker who already knows how to perform a specialty, even though he may be no great shakes in all-around ability.

It is better to be an ordinary guy who knows how to run a particular kind of machine than to be a whiz-kid with no previously established job classification.

A Rhodes scholar who does not know his way around a mechanized farm is less qualified to latch onto a job in agriculture than a bumpkin who had learned by previous experience that a tractor will pull itself over on its back if its horsepower exceeds the drag on the drawbar.

The indispensable qualification is skill. The people who are going to be left out of it — the rejects—are the unskilled. Everything has been figured out efficiently, except what to do with them.

On-the-job training is part of an answer, but it works only when jobs are hunting jobholders and when the recruits are capable of learning. What the U.S. Army is doing, in effect, is to dump those least likely to learn.

It is all part of the weeding-out process that ensues whenever mere man gets into competition with mechanization and automation.

Potato - sorting once was a job for unskilled labor. The decisions were tough when they were on the borderline, but even a mental lumpy could get the hang of the difference between a big potato and a small potato.

But today, even potato-sorting is done by machinery, which doesn't crack up under the pressure of making decisions. Machinery counts the widgets on production lines. Machinery digs and shovels. Machinery sorts and grades people looking for something to do.

Just about the only work left for the unskilled is to give opinions in public — opinion polls, answers in telephone surveys of the popularity of TV programs and momentous decisions at the polls on election day — all unpaid occupations.

It looks as if this might have to be the answer to the collective problem of the unskilled — to turn their mere physical presence as members of the population into a kind of paid occupation.

They can become "panelists," like those people on television who support themselves from week to week by filling a chair and remembering not to do anything unsightly while "on camera." No skill required.

What else?

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — Dr. Mathias Erzberger, German state secretary, said that the conclusion had been reached that each country should bear its direct war costs, although Germany would be compelled to indemnify the occupied district of France and Belgium and pay the losses inflicted on the civil population of the allied nations.

It was discovered that some miscreant had chipped off a piece of historic Plymouth Rock. A piece of the famous stone, the size of a man's fist was discovered missing. The Pilgrim Society, which had custody of the rock, started investigating.

20 YEARS AGO — Because Grace Moore, opera, radio and screen singer gave the Duchess of Windsor a deep curtsy in public in Cannes, France, a furor was raised over whether or not the American-born duchess who married an abdicated king is or is not royalty. The Riviera winter colony was divided on the issue.

A Marion County woman, Mrs. E. A. Alline of the Hillman-Ford Rd. just north of Marion was putting the finishing touches on a full-size house on which she did nearly all the work. She told the press she believed she was the only Ohio woman who ever tackled the job of house building, single-handed.

10 YEARS AGO — Secretary of Defense Forrestal set the stage for a possible new fight in Congress with his plea for greater power over the nation's armed services. At the same time, the cabinet officer declared this country must help re-arm non-Communist Europe even though the cost might "necessitate hard decisions by our people."

Ohio cities badly squeezed by soaring costs, again demanded a bigger slice of state sales tax revenues. The government then distributed $27,500,000 to municipal governments.

Retail Clerks Vote To Settle Toledo Strike

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—In meetings Monday members of the Retail Clerks Union voted overwhelmingly in favor of an agreement to end their 13-month strike against three Toledo department stores.

The vote was 172-13 in the afternoon meeting of employes of LaSalle's. At a night meeting of strikers against Lamson's and the Lion Store the vote was unanimous, union spokesmen reported.

None of the three stores was closed by the strike, and union picketing was concentrated on the Macy-owned LaSalle's.

The stores have announced they will start sending out letters to employes notifying them they can apply for reinstatement in their jobs. A spokesman for the employers said all should be back by Feb. 2.

The agreement voted on Monday was reached on Dec. 24 in negotiations.

Details were not disclosed, but the agreement provided for an immediate ending of all picketing and halting of all national boycott activities by the union against the Macy organization.

The strike started after contract talks between the union and Retail Associates, Inc., representing the stores, broke off in November, 1957. The dispute included a series of court actions by both sides.

Railroads Request Okay for Signal at Crestline Crossing

CRESTLINE — A request from the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads for permission to install automatic crossing protection devices on the railroads' crossings on S. Thoman St. was presented to Crestline Village Council Monday night.

The meeting was an adjourned session from Dec. 22 when a quorum was not present for the regular council meeting.

Representing the Pennsylvania Railroad Monday night were Vice President H. H. Pevler, J. A. Balla, T. C. Nitherton and A. S. Barr. New York Central officials present were W. H. Sprunk, H. Hoover and O. W. Coffman.

The crossings presently are guarded by a watchman. The railroad officials gave council a description of the crossing devices which would be installed and outlined the advantages in having the devices at the crossings.

The railroad officials asked that council take action on the proposal and notify Mr. Pevler and Mr. Sprunk of the decision.

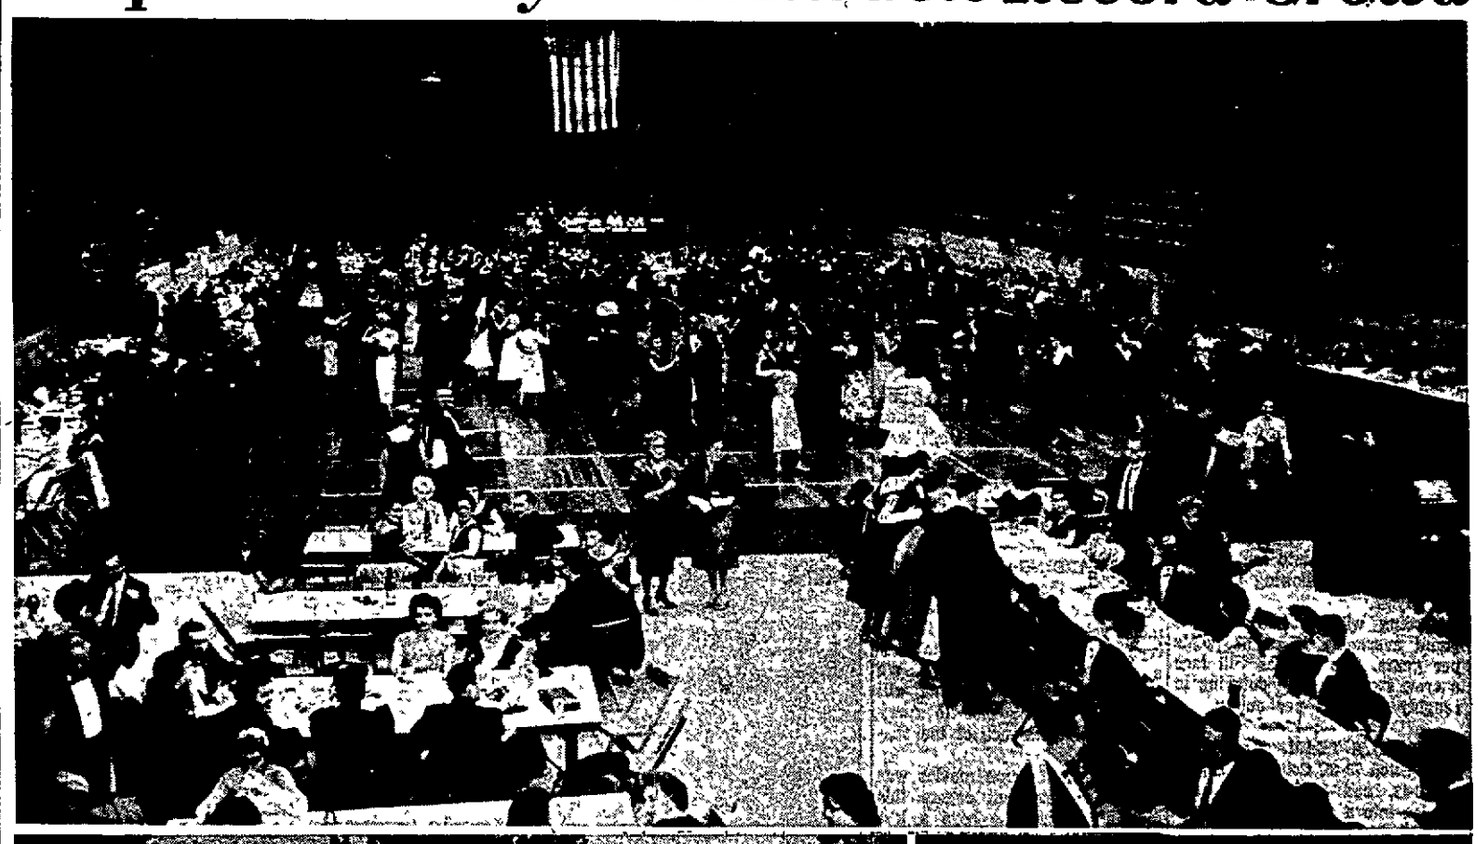
Hospital Charity Ball Attracts Record Crowd



AN ESTIMATED 450 COUPLES danced from 10 until 2 o'clock at the annual Charity Ball held Monday night at the Veterans Memorial Coliseum. The dance, sponsored by the Women's Hospital Board, reached an all-time high in attendance.

The ball was held at the Coliseum for the first time this year to facilitate the ever-increasing crowd. Tables and chairs were available for everyone and the dance floor provided adequate room for everything from the Charleston to the waltz.

UPPER: Couples attending the ball are shown dancing to the music of Ross Halamay and his Orchestra of Akron. The Coliseum was well-decorated. Christmas trees were used as a backdrop for the orchestra and for various other sections of the building. From the railings above the floor, greenery rope entwined with red ribbon was looped from holly wreaths. More high school and college students attended this year than ever before, said Mrs. Frederick Rea, president of the hospital board.

Atlas May Remain in Orbit Twice as Long as Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's Atlas satellite is expected to stay in orbit more than twice as long as the 20 days first predicted.

But the radio voice which relayed President Eisenhower's recorded message of peace and good will to the world is expected to die within the next 10 days.

The Defense Department now says the 8,000-pound Atlas may continue to orbit until about Feb. 1.

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., says most watchers in the United States should be able to see the Atlas during the next few days.

Smithsonian Moonwatch teams have estimated the Atlas has a brightness ranging up to the brightest star in the heavens, depending on distance.

Wednesday morning's first passage over the United States at 5:09 a.m., EST, should be visible in Florida only. The second, at 6:47 a.m., EST, cuts across Central America and should be visible in an area from southwest Texas to the Great Lakes and western New York state to western Florida.

Wednesday's final passage over the Pacific at 8:26 a.m., EST, should be visible from the mid-California coast to North Dakota and down to New Mexico.

Renamed to Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lancaster's city engineer, Walter Graf, has been re-appointed to the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Surveyors. The new term, announced Monday by Gov. C. William O'Neill, ends Sept. 25, 1963.

3-Car Crash Fatal

SALEM, Ohio (AP)—A three-car collision on Ohio 62 north of here Monday killed Nicholas J. Burton, 74, of Boardman, and seriously injured three members of a Cleveland family. Burton's car went out of control and crashed head-on into a car driven by Walter T. Cook, 34, of Cleveland, State Highway Patrolmen said. Burton's neck was broken and Cook, his wife, Colleen, 28, and their son, Marvin, 12, all were admitted to Central Clinic here with serious injuries.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: My husband claims he reads your column for "laughs." I hope you will print this and maybe he'll laugh himself sick—then do something about the problem.

He's an intellectual. Every evening he reads, studies or works on his stamp collection. His idea of brilliant conversation is, "Pass the sugar."

We have three children and a nice home. He doesn't run around, drink excessively or spend money foolishly. He claims he loves me but shows no affection unless I hit him on top of the head.

I'm no dewey-eyed bride but there must be more to marriage than watching TV in the same room. Please clobber him.—DESOLATE DELLA.

Dear Della: If he responds to being hit on top of the head the solution is simple—hit him more often.

First, insist that he go to a doctor for a checkup. If he gets a clean bill of health it's up to you to devise ways and means to take his mind off the picture box and the old stamps. I'm sure if you ponder this question for awhile and use your female ingenuity, you'll think of something.

With You, Dad!

Dear Ann Landers: Our 15-year-old daughter baby-sits for a lovely family across the street. Should she be permitted to have her boy friend visit her on the job? My wife sees nothing wrong with it if the people don't object. I say it's not a good idea for obvious reasons.

Our daughter is furious with me because I put a stop to it. We've had some violent arguments and I asked my daughter if she'd accept your decision. She said yes but made me promise to emphasize that she's a very nice girl.

Please settle this right away. I can't take much more.—ALONE DAD.

You're not alone, Dad. I'm with you.

A 15-year-old should not be permitted to entertain her boy friend when no adult is in the house—this means in her own home as well as in homes where she has been engaged as a babysitter.

Even "very nice girls" get in over their heads when they court temptation time after time. Two young people alone in a house is entirely too cozy. The word from here is no dice.

Love and Marriage

Dear Ann: It always surprises me when I hear married men at work gripe because Suzie's braces cost money or Johnny needs another pair of shoes. They never complain when they make a down payment on a new car or some expensive fishing equipment.

I'm a married man who was a bachelor for a good part of my life, so I'm in a position to compare the benefits of both.

I'm much better off financially now that I'm married. The amount I once paid out in rent is now being applied on a home which one day we'll own. My wife feeds the four of us on less than I used to spend in restaurants for just myself. I pay less in taxes. As a married man I'm not expected to help out relatives and friends who need money for emergencies.

Furthermore, when a married man reaches old age there's usually someone around who cares. He's not so apt to lose his identity in a rest home or a charity ward in some hospital. I'm just sorry it took me so long to get smart—CONFIRMED MARRIED MAN.

Dear Confirmed: Yours is the greatest testimonial for marriage since Patrick Henry almost ruined everything with his "Give me liberty or give me death." Thanks for writing. For every bachelor who will hate you, 10 spinsters will love you.

Confidentially

TO SOFT TOUCH: Of course you did the right thing, but if you had to wait until you were asked you waited too long.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Harding Cagers Resume Chase in Visit to Lorain

Prexies Seek Third Win in Conference

Harding's hardcourt squad, after a week's rest from competition, takes the boards again tonight, traveling to Lorain for a Buckeye Conference encounter with Coach Allan McConihe's Steeler quintet.

Coach Don Knodel's cagers will be seeking victory No. 6 in seven outings, with Lorain after its seventh victory in eight games. The action promises to be fast and furious as both fives, very much in contention for conference title honors, get back into the regular game schedule following the holiday layoff.

Harding will go into tonight's game averaging about 57 points per game. The Prexies will face a crew that has been dumping in roughly 62 digits per outing.

KNODEL'S TEAM, after dumping Kenton 78-45, Columbus Aquinas 58-42, and Shelby 70-50, ran headon into a stout Sandusky outfit and dropped a 58-51 decision. Since then, the Presidents have triumphed over Findlay, 41-35, and Fremont, 53-38, both conference tilts.

Lorain, figured at season's outset to race Elyria to the wire for the loop crown, has edged Sandusky by one point and Fremont by a healthy 25. The Steelers' only loss came at the hands of Elyria, a contest Lorain dropped 84-62.

Harding will go against McConihe's boys with a good height advantage. But, the Steelers figure to floor the best balanced scoring potential, with four of their five starters averaging better than 10 points per game.

Top man on the Lorain quintet, scorewise, is Bob Zeletal, 6-1, whose efforts have netted him upwards of 15 points per game. Zeletal will be at one of the forwards. His running mate is likely to be Dennis Lavish, who stands 6-1 and who has been rimming enemy buckets for nine tallies per outing.

IN THE PIVOT spot will be Bill Karpinski, 6-4 grid star, who owns an 11-point average. The two guards will probably be Ray Martin, 5-10, with a 13-point average, and Ed Kingsley, 5-10, a 10-point performer.

The top Steeler substitute is Dan Belu, a six-footer who has been averaging only five points per game but who is considered one of Lorain's best players.

Against this array, Knodel will send big Bob Middleton at center, Middleton, 6-3, has been accounting for some 13 points per game, a mark equaled by Mike Chamberlain, one of the Prexy forwards.

Running with Chamberlain will be Paul Cressor, who, starting for the first time in the Fremont game, rolled in 10 points.

Harding's guards will most likely be Stan Larkin and George Kirk, a brace of basketballers usually good for eight points each per game.

Knodel looks to tonight's game as potentially "one of the better games in the conference," and adds that "if our defense maintains its efficiency and our offense finally gets rolling, we should be able to take this one."

THE HARDING pilot has lamented the fact that his boys have not "come around offensively as much yet as I expected." Knodel reported: "We have still to play a real good offensive game. We need that first big one that will give us the confidence to carry us along the balance of the season."

A session of game movies was slated for President cagers this morning, giving the boys a last opportunity to note mistakes made in games past.

"We've been spending considerable time on fundamentals yet," Knodel observed. "We've lost the ball too many times on turnovers and we've made other mistakes that we simply cannot condone if we itend to wind up with a creditable record."

"It is our goal to score at least 65 points per game," the Prexy mentor added. "We figure we must if we are to beat some of these better teams. And, we've accomplished that end in only two of our six games."

Harding expects to find Lorain playing a man-to-man defense tonight, with every possibility that the Steelers will also employ a full court press. "They're fast, they like to go with the ball, and they'll be out to enhance their record at our expense. We don't aim to accommodate them," was Knodel's parting remark this morning.

Boxing Champ Is Cleared in Narcotic Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Don Jordan, world welterweight champion, has been cleared by the district attorney's office in a narcotics possession case.

Jordan and four others were arrested Sunday in a car in which police said they found a smoldering marijuana cigarette.

The newly crowned 147-pound champ, who won his title by beating Virgil Akins, denied any knowledge of the cigarette. "If I had known there was any marijuana in that car I wouldn't have been riding in it," he said.

The district attorney's office also declined to issue complaints against three others in the car: boxer Javier Sanches, 24, Mexico; Pete Padilla, 19, driver; and George Chavez, 21. A fourth youth, Richard Holguin, 18, will be charged with narcotics possession, the district attorney said.

North's Squad Will Bank on Passing Game

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Smart quarterbacking and a deadly passing threat look certain for the North squad in the Senior Bowl game Saturday.

North Coach Joe Kuharich used Don Allard of Boston College, first round draft choice of the Washington Redskins, and Lee Grosscup of Utah at the ball-handling slot. Grosscup was the fancy passer who led the nation a year ago.

Kuharich coached the Redskins before accepting his new assignment at Notre Dame.

Both the North squad and the South team directed by Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns drilled in sunshine with the temperature around 70 degrees Monday.

Thirty-four of the 50 players on the two squads saw action in postseason bowl battles last Saturday. The only player on the doubtful list is Arkansas fullback Donny Stone of the South who injured a knee in the East-West game at San Francisco.

Wet Gridiron Is Threatened At Sugar Bowl

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Clemson isn't banking on any help from the weatherman against Louisiana State's national champions in the Sugar Bowl New Year's Day. But it's no secret a wet field will impede the speedy Bayou Bengals.

Forecasters said they don't expect any rain on the 82,000 fans Thursday, but heavy showers were on tap for today and Wednesday and a heavy field probably will greet the teams.

Coach Frank Howard had his Clemson squad working out in mild, springlike weather at Biloxi, Miss., Monday. The balding veteran of 19 seasons at Clemson said — perhaps with tongue in cheek— he hoped the good weather will last.

Coach Paul Dietzel of undefeated LSU had little comment on the weather. One of his toughest regular season games was 7-6 muddy victory over Mississippi State, a team his Bengals were favored to beat by a prohibitive margin.

Coaches who gathered for a Sugar Bowl get-together said a soggy turf would definitely hurt LSU's chances. They quickly conceded LSU had a lot of chances to hurt with oddsmakers quoting the Tigers favorites by two touchdowns plus.

American Netters Bid for Davis Cup

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — America's Ham Richardson and Alex Olmedo made a dramatic — almost impossible — comeback just when all seemed lost today and won the doubles over Mal Anderson and Neale Fraser to move within one step of recapturing the Davis Cup from Australia.

Behind two sets and their backs squarely up against the wall, Richardson, the No. 1 U.S. player, and Olmedo, the borrowed Peruvian, won an exhausting four-hour marathon 10-12, 3-6, 16-14, 6-3, 7-5.

Take 2-1 Margin

The triumph gave the underdog Yanks a 2-1 lead in the best-of-five competition and put them in a favorable position to clinch the international tennis trophy in the final singles Wednesday.

Olmedo, who scored a sensational first-day victory over Anderson, will play Wimbledon champion Ashley Cooper in the first match, while Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, will meet weary, harried Anderson in the final test.

The confident American camp is sure the 22-year-old Olmedo, who is playing brilliant tennis, will whip Cooper, the world's top amateur, and make the final match a mere formality.

But even if he fails, the most rabid Australians concede MacKay, with his booming service, stands a good chance of licking Anderson, a chronic worrier who now is fretting over two straight setbacks.

It was Anderson, his legs wobbly from weariness, who finally cracked in the 81st game, losing his service at love in the 11th game of the fifth and final set.

Olmedo in Top Form

First he netted a weak volley. Then two fine shots by Richardson made it 0-40, and finally Olmedo won the game-clinching point with a great lob. Fraser, who played well most of the way, smashed the ball at Alex's feet. The National Collegiate champion from Southern California swung and the ball wafted over the Aussies' heads, just within the baseline.

Then Olmedo, with the sweet scent of victory urging him on, unleashed the biggest services of his career, won the 12th and deciding game without the loss of a point.

Twin Platoon Squads Battle In Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (AP) — The concensus is that you shouldn't feel too sorry for "little" Air Force Academy in its battle with big Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl Thursday.

Manpower may not have anything to do with it and if it does Air Force seems to have enough to take care of the situation.

Coach Ben Martin is using the two-unit system and plans to continue it in the Cotton Bowl. Even against Iowa, the strongest team played during the season, he was able to substitute by the clock. That was the day Air Force fought the mighty Hawkeyes to a 13-13 tie.

Thus, any idea that Texas Christian, which is a bulky three deep and plays it second and third teams almost as much as the first, will overpower Air Force might not hold water.

Coach Abe Martin of Texas Christian wouldn't say he thought reserve strength would be the major point — he merely declared that "I think the second team will have a lot to do with this game."

Martin said he figured TCU should be favored because it was deeper. But he also pointed out that his well-conditioned team didn't need too much substituting.

High-Scoring Struggle Predicted in Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) —Hard work was behind Iowa and California today and whatever the rivals have cooked up for the Rose Bowl battle must remain top secret until New Year's Day.

Coach Pete Elliott of California planned a one-hour session today. The Bears had a rough session of almost two hours Monday.

Forest Evashevski of the Big Ten champions had similar plans for the Hawkeyes. A spirited dummy workout Monday featured the pinpoint passing of All-America quarterback Randy Duncan.

Cal's quarterback star, Joe Kapp, was healthy after a bad cold, and both teams figure to be in excellent shape for the game.

Elliott named his probable starting lineup but cautioned it was subject to revision.

As it stands, Kapp heads a backfield of halfbacks Jack Hart and Hank Olguin and fullback Bill Patton.

Across the line, Elliott named ends Jerry Lundgren and Tom Bates, tackles Pete Newell and Frank Sally, guards Pete Domoto and Don Piestrup and center Terry Jones.

Most observers look for a high scoring game. One expert predicted 30 or more points for each team.

Pollak Defeats Whirlpool for 'Y' Cage Win

Pollak Steel clipped Whirlpool 57-51 in an Industrial League cage thriller Monday night at the YMCA.

In other league games, Marion Power Shovel bumped Technical Services 44-38, Goodyear belted General Telephone by a 62-41 margin and Fulfillment rolled over McMillen by a 72-50 margin.

The Pollak crew led 12-8 after one quarter but dropped behind 25-24 at the half before assuming a 39-35 edge in the third period. Arley Williams led the attack with 20 points while Gene Jessie added 10. Bernie Martin was high for Whirlpool with 15 and Norm Buyer added 13.

Marion Power Shovel led most of the way against Technical Service. The winners claimed a 14-9 edge after one quarter, but trailed at the half 24-22. They went into the finale with a 37-31 edge. Harold Weddington's 12 points topped the winners with John Heller scoring 13 for the losers.

Roger McCombs scored 15 points and Merle Daum and Bud England each netted 14 to lead Goodyear to its win. The score was tied at 17-all after the first quarter but the winners led 32-21 at the half and 45-26 at the start of the final frame. Dick Riddle paced the Telephone squad with 19 markers.

A 27-point spurt by Ted Bibler and 21 markers by Bob Messner sparked the Fulfillment cagers to their romp. That game also was tied up after one quarter at 16-16. The winners managed a 33-32 edge at the half and built up a 50-41 margin in the third quarter. Bob Cook topped the McMillen scoring with 16 points and Jim Kirk hit for 14.

Insurgents Planning To Contest Dirksen's Bid for Floor Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)— Republican liberals seek agreement today on a slate of candidates to challenge conservative colleagues for control of their party's Senate leadership.

With fewer than a dozen of the Senate's 34 Republicans represented, the GOP insurgents showed few signs of agreement on either tactics or personalities in advance of a closed meeting in the office of Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt).

Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn), who proposed at a previous session that the group get behind a full leadership slate, said he is offering Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky) as a candidate for the floor leader post vacated by retiring Sen. William Knowland (R-Calif).

Cooper said in a separate interview he hasn't canvassed anybody to vote for him, but is willing to run for the job if the group backs him.

Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R-Calif), who has been mentioned as a possible candidate, said he thinks the liberal group ought to concentrate on getting one of its members into the leadership lineup, without challenging veteran conservatives now holding top posts.

Rate Hike

Mr. Williams said the rate increase also is needed to provide for continued expansion and improvement of company facilities.

Says Earnings Declining

The earnings of the company have been declining for some time, he said, and a rate increase application has been avoided only by extensive training, increased efficiency, use of new tools, techniques, aggressive merchandising and installation of new and improved equipment, he added.

Under the proposed rate increase, the additional gross revenues of the company would amount to $263,095 a month. After taxes this will amount to $123,600 in increased income, he said.

The company's proposal is broken down into seven rate bands with each based on the number of telephones in use in the community served. Marion is in Band 6 which is for areas having from 8,001 to 20,000 telephone stations and is next to the highest rates proposed. The lowest rates are for areas with 500 or fewer telephones in service. The highest are for areas where there are 20,001 or more telephone stations.

Table of Rates

Following is a table of present and proposed rates for Rate Band 6 which applies to the Marion area.

DANCE CLUB PRESENTS GIFTS. Three record players, five table model radios and a large selection of records were presented to the Children's Home Monday night by the Par Dance Club. Pictured here looking over the items (left to right) are: James Painter, home superintendent; Lester McGuire, president of the dance club; Judy Gerbes, 14, and John Mann, 13, residents of the home. Approximately 25 pupils from the Par Dance Studio put on a dance program in connection with the presentation. Tap and ballet dancing and vocal numbers were featured under the direction of Pat and Ray Basore of the Par Dance Studio. A candy treat was distributed to youngsters. Mayor Wendell L. Strong was a guest for the program and spoke briefly. The dance club, a social group composed of more than 1,100 adults, used money from its treasury to buy the gifts for the home. Many other groups and individuals made donations to the home this year to make its Christmas a memorable one, Mr. Painter said.

Flight Into Space

Within seconds, I felt dizzy and my vision seemed to dim. Hooking up the oxygen I felt better almost immediately.

The one-day course completed successfully, with a physical check by the flight surgeon under my belt, I then was ready for space travel as they know it at WADC.

Fantastic vibration, oppressive "G" forces and unbelievable noise jarred my every faculty as I blasted off into outer space.

Jarred Up and Down

I was jarred up and down at a force of one "G" each way—nine times a second.

I was whirled through space at a force of three and one-half "Gs."

"G" is for gravity. Everyone has one "G" force equal to his weight pulling him to earth.

At two and one-half "Gs" a 200-pound man would weigh 500 pounds. "Gs" are caused by acceleration—most people have felt them on the bottom of a hill riding a roller coaster.

During acceleration into space, the "G" force will be so great that only the fingers can be moved. Once in space man will be weightless—no "Gs" at all—and will float free.

Mind Plays Tricks

An electrical charge, a great deal less than the average house circuit, was passed through my head. It caused my mind to play tricks on me—the same type of illusion that may wait in space.

In the equilibrium chair, a device that rolls and pitches like a crazed bronco as it jars up and down, I clutched at the control strick trying to keep the craft on an even keel.

The moon seemed a long way off, but the noise and vibration was real. I was later to learn of the awesome silence of space.

I lost three pounds in two hours.

But on the blastoff, the noise, vibration and "G" forces were an unforgettable experience. Oddly enough, WADC scientists say noise and vibration are one and the same.

Placed on Centrifuge

To simulate the "G" forces that tear at your face and press on your lungs, I was placed on a 48-foot long human centrifuge. Its axis and driving mechanism are in the center.

The centrifuge; known affectionately as "the wheel" is capable of whirling a man at 20 "Gs"—a force that could prove fatal.

My position on the wheel was that of a seated person, although I was on my back. A large brace was clamped to my chest.

As the wheel began to move, my carriage turned so my back was away from the axis. Thus the "G" forces passed through my body from the back.

At three and one-half "Gs" my mouth seemed to tear away from my gums. I couldn't lift my head and I'm sure I couldn't have gotten out of the seat.

Arms Grow Heavy

My arms grew heavy and I could begin to feel the pressure on my chest.

The wheel has carried men to forces up to 16 "Gs." This, according to Capt. Neville Clarke, the man in charge of the wheel, would put a man in orbit around the earth.

"G" forces can best be sustained by man in the "transverse" position according to Capt. Clarke. Feet first, or head first, man probably could not take the "G" forces of blast off.

But "G" forces, vibration, noise, heat and cold are not the only problems waiting in the blackness of space. The mind itself may play tricks.

I was apprehensive, to say the least, when an electrode was placed behind each ear and an electric current passed through my head.

Seems To Sway

I could soon feel a pulsating through my entire body—I stood up and seemed to sway to and fro. I looked out the window and the landscape blurred.

They say my eyes shifted from side to side. In some, the electric current produces motion sickness. It seems real to the individual and may last for several hours. It did not occur in my case.

The electrical jolt in the head which disrupts the equilibrium is still in the experimental stage at WADC. Just what will be learned and what value it will be to the total program remains to be seen.

Sharp fighting continued in easternmost Oriente Province, the birthplace of Castro's rebel movement. Rebels skirmished with government troops in the outskirts of heavily defended Santiago.

Castro was directing operations in Oriente. He left the fight for Santa Clara in the hands of a leftist Argentine lieutenant, medical doctor Ernesto Guevara. A report that Guevara had been killed remained unconfirmed.

The government used bombers, tanks, armored cars and artillery to support troops fighting from house to house against outnumbered infantrymen of rebel leader Fidel Castro. Government sources claimed rebels were being dislodged from key positions.

Thousands of civilians fled Santa Clara, capital of the rich central farming province of Las Villas. The city of 150,000 persons is 160 miles east of Havana.

Dr. Rea Re-Appointed To Child Welfare Board

Dr. Frederick W. Rea of 650 Bexley Ave. was re-appointed by the county commissioners Monday to a third four-year term on the Marion County Child Welfare Board. The appointment becomes effective Jan. 1. Dr. Rea was first appointed to the board in 1951.

Polaris Rocket Drifts Off Line, Is Destroyed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A sleek Polaris test rocket roared off to a beautiful start today but was blown up minutes later, when it drifted off course.

It was the third time in a row that a Polaris was destroyed after launching.

The temperamental two-stage missile blasted straight up at 9:58 a.m.

However, 15 minutes after the spectacular blastoff, the Navy announced that the range safety officer destroyed the missile when it deviated from its planned trajectory.

Tour To Be Conducted

A Christmas light tour for the Golden Age group of the Salvation Army will be conducted by the Marion County Automobile Dealers Association tonight at 7 o'clock. Various auto dealers will provide transportation for the tour, according to Edwin Pearson, chairman.

efforts in combatting the Communist menace, he said.

NATO, NOW composed of 15 nations, provides for this coordination and serves to prepare the West for its self-defense, he said. One of the basic philosophies of NATO is never to have recourse to aggression in the settlement of international disputes, he added. All actions taken by member nations to quell small uprisings in various points around the globe are fully discussed beforehand by the foreign ministers at NATO conferences, he said.

While attending the two week discussion meeting along with some 200 other legislative representatives from the member nations, Rep. Betts served on a cultural discussion committee.

One of the things Europeans want most is security from aggression, he said, and in answer to a question later said that he had the impression that they, partly because of NATO, now feel as secure as it is possible to feel "in the existing dangerous situation."

IN ANSWER to another question from the floor, Rep. Betts said that he feels the U.S. foreign aid program is ahead of the Russian program in most areas. He added that it must be remembered that in representative governments such as ours, an accounting must be made to the people whereas in Russia such is not necessary.

The meeting was conducted by L. H. Larsen, president. Three new members were officially inducted into the club by Charlton Myers. They were: Charles Freeman, John Baldauf and Mayor Wendell L. Strong.

Guests, introduced by Ernie Allen, were: John Haberman, Robert T. Mason, West Point Cadet John Gutherie, Lou Teitelbaum, Harold Protsman and Charles L. Martin.

An announcement was made that the football appreciation banquet scheduled Tuesday, Jan. 13, is not being sponsored by the club for profit reasons. The entire Harding High School coaching staff, the team, the band and the cheerleaders all will be guests of the club, it was announced.

Youth Taken to Hospital Following Auto Mishap

A Caledonia area youth was admitted to Bucyrus Community Hospital for observation last night after he became ill at the wheel of his car and the vehicle swerved off Rt. 98, striking a tree.

State patrolmen here said the mishap occurred six miles south of Bucyrus at 7:35 p.m. slightly damaging the northbound auto driven by Lawrence M. Garnow, 18, of near Caledonia.

Officers said the accident still is under investigation.

Ashtabula Driver Cited After Morrow Mishap

An Ashtabula driver was charged with reckless operation and was cited to appear in Mount Gilead Mayor's Court today after his auto was involved in a Rt. 42 accident Monday night.

Patrolmen said Homer R. Gilchrist, 23, of Ashtabula was arrested after his auto struck the left front end of another northbound car driven by Mabel E. Begly, 27, of Ashland.

According to the report, the collision occurred when Gilchrist's vehicle passed the Begly auto and cut back too sharply.

Minor damage was done to both vehicles. The mishap occurred one mile north of Mount Gilead at 6 p.m.

Auto Mishaps In 2 Counties Set New Mark

With one day remaining in 1958, the number of accidents in Marion and Morrow counties already has hit an all-time high, Cpl. D. M. Dewalt reported today.

The accident figure stood at 656 this morning as compared with 621 when 1957 bowed out last year.

The local post commander pointed out that traffic accidents in the Marion-Morrow County area are increasing each year.

He predicted that before 1959 is ushered in tomorrow night several more accidents will send the total above the 656 point.

Cpl. Dewalt urged that motorists cooperate in holding down the accident rate and death toll.

"If you must drive on New Year's Eve, drive with extreme care," he stressed.

Not only will all available squad cars and men be policing the highways Wednesday night and New Year's Day, but strict enforcement of driving rules will be exercised, he said.

No leniency will be employed in making arrests, The crackdown particularly will apply to drivers who show indications of having been drinking, Cpl. Dewalt said.

"If you have been drinking or are suffering from fatigue, park your car in a safe place and spend that extra dollar to take a taxi home. Doing this may save your life and someone else's life, too," he stressed.

The only other accident in the city caused less than $100 total damage, Marion police estimated.

Car Runs Off Road

A Marion man's auto was considerably damaged when it went out of control on County Rd. 138 (Barks Rd.) and struck a farm fence Monday night, state patrolmen reported today.

They said the westbound auto was driven by Jessie L. Pelphrey, 32, of 1296 Sunset Rd. It plowed through a fence owned by A. D. Kaufman of 905 Richland Pk.

The mishap occurred one mile south of Marion at 9:45 p.m.

Mercury Plunges To 29-Degree Low

Typical Ohio winter weather prevailed at dawn this morning and was slated to carry over through Wednesday.

The mercury rose to a peak of 51 degrees Monday afternoon, then settled to an overnight low of 29. It was still 29 at 7:30 this morning but as noon approached it had dropped to 26, as a cold, clammy breeze stirred about the county.

A heavy overcast hid the morning's sun, and a light mist was recorded between 3 and 6 a.m. today. It was evident intermittently at midmorning.

The weatherman noted the possibility of continued light drizzle in his early morning forecast, but predicted only a cloudy condition tonight and Wednesday, with somewhat colder overall conditions prevailing.

A high of 40 was predicted today. Tonight's low could be 23, the weatherman suggested, with a peak reading Wednesday of 38.

As noon rolled around, minute particles of snow were falling lazily to accompany the mist.

and the Sandusky River, which empties into Lake Erie, sometimes join in several counties north of Columbus during high water.

Soon after the district's engineering staff drew up a plan for various dams, reservoirs, water storage facilities and other flood control measures early in the 1950s, disagreements arose.

There was a long battle over the proposed Mill Creek Reservoir, which Delaware and Union County officials opposed because it would flood some 8,500 acres, to be taken off the tax duplicate.

Funds collected by assessment figured in another battle, which reached the State Supreme Court. The district won out and, in 1956, was awarded some $247,000 collected in Franklin County.

Police Reports

Only things reported taken were two bottles of club soda and $6 in small change from the front seat of a delivery truck.

2 Teen-Agers Held In Theft of Purse

Two teen-age boys were taken into custody by Marion police Monday and were held on charges of petty larceny in the theft of a purse from the Twin Sandwich Shop on S. State St. last Wednesday.

Emma Silvers, a waitress in the restaurant, told police that her purse, containing $12 and other personal items was stolen from a shelf at the rear of the restaurant about 1:40 p.m.

In admitting the theft to police yesterday, the two boys, 13 and 14, also told police they had hidden the purse at the Calvary EUB Church, after taking the money from it. Police recovered the purse and the other contents.

The two boys were held in the county detention home pending an appearance in Marion County Juvenile Court on the theft charges.

Local Man Sentenced To Term in Workhouse

Merle Leroy Gosnell, 21, of 478½ W. Columbia St. was sentenced to 90 days in the Columbus Workhouse after he pleaded guilty in Marion Municipal Court today to a charge of petty larceny.

He was accused in an affidavit signed by George Lupica with stealing $39 from Mr. Lupica's service station at Henry St. and Bellefontaine Ave. last Wednesday. and remained closed today.

New Mexico State Police headquarters said the only spot where Highway 66 remained closed was between Amarillo, Tex., and the New Mexico border.

Some 1,000 automobiles were stranded until today in an 18-mile stretch of U. S. 66 about 60 miles east of Albuquerque.

Snowfall Continues

Snow continued to swirl early today in eastern New Mexico, the Texas Panhandle and western Oklahoma. The U.S. Weather Bureau said another 3 to 4 inches could be expected before the snow tapered off later in the day.

Three of the deaths attributed to the storm were in Texas. Mrs. Elizabeth R. Whiteside, 38, Amarillo, Tex., and her daughter Tayna, 9, were killed when their car and a truck collided during a snowstorm at Vernon, Tex. L. D. Rundell, 35, was killed when his car ran into a freight train at Muleshoe, Tex. In Colorado, where snows ranging from 3 to 18 inches fell, a Denver traffic death was blamed on icy streets.

third person, the killer, Garmone said.

5. The state tagged as a figment of Sheppard's imagination a bushy-haired intruder described by the doctor as the killer who escaped after he and Sheppard scuffled. Garmone said investigators had information that two persons saw a man of that description on Lake road west of the Sheppard home shortly after the murder.

Names Not Mentioned

Garmone did not name those he accused of withholding evidence at the trial. He said all of the information detailed was in possession of investigating authorities and available to prosecuting attorneys before the trial.

Signers of the amended petition in addition to Garmone were William J. Corrigan and Arthur E. Petersilge, Cleveland attorneys.

Court attaches said Ohio Penitentiary Warden Ralph W. Alvis, defendant in the habeas corpus action, will be given time to answer the Sheppard petition.

The Supreme Court previously turned down Sheppard's appeal said the habeas corpus action was taken in an effort to strengthen an anticipated appeal to federal courts.

Budget

$25,000 less than expenses, he said.

At the start of this year, the hospital appropriation was set at $1,219,500. The new appropriation sets the expenditures at $1,376,000 or an increase of $156,500. This more than accounts for the $152,673 increase in the total city appropriations.

Mr. Smith reported that those attending the meeting in addition to himself were: Mayor Wendell L. Strong, Mr. Shaw, Ralph Williams (R-4th), Emmett Osterholt (R-6th), Lowell Doyle (R-3rd) John Robbins (D-1st) and Robert Wooley, deputy auditor.

Police Will Ticket Cars Blocking School Doors

Local drivers were warned today that cars parked on Holmes Pl. opposite two large fire escape doors on the rear of the Eber Baker Junior High School will be issued tickets by city police.

Safety-Service Director Howard W. Travis said this morning that "no parking" signs were placed along the street adjacent to the doors Saturday but automobiles still are being parked in the area directly in front of the doors.

He said that when cars are parked in front of the doors, the escape path is partially blocked. He said the doors could still be opened but that little room would remain for the school children to get between the edges of the doors and the parked cars.

Juvenile Charge Filed Against Marion Man

A 40-year-old Marion man was bound over to the grand jury for the second time in two months Monday after appearing in Juvenile Court on a charge of taking indecent liberties with minor children.

He is William E. Delauder of 582 E. Mark St. who was freed Nov. 13 on a $1,000 property bond after being bound to the jury on a felonious assault charge. He was re-arrested Monday by police juvenile officers.

Judge Edward J. Ruzzo ordered Delauder held under $5,000 cash bond.

Police also reported that two Marion boys, 15 and 16 years old, both involved in the latest incident, are being held in detention at the Children's Home on extortion charges. They are accused of obtaining $350 from Delauder.

Democrats Come Marching In

Ohio Faces New Taxes and Spending

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Defeated Republicans and conservatives in general are saying that organized labor will be in the saddle in the Ohio Legislature which meets next week.

How the leadership of the first Democratic - dominated Legislature in a decade copes with that feeling probably will be a play-by-ear proposition. There are early signs, however, that the Democrats are taking their big task seriously.

Second of a Series

Veteran senators and representatives are aware that they were elected not only to represent their districts, but to consider the welfare of the state as a whole. Privately, they are talking of caution—a take-it-easy approach to the problems facing the state.

Their attitude right now: "The Democratic state platform is good enough for us. If we can get that platform adopted into law in the next two sessions, we will be satisfied."

IF THE DEMOCRATIC platform is to be the key to the coming Legislature's performance, Ohioans need to refresh their memories on the contents of that document, to remind themselves what they voted for.

One glance indicates a more liberal slant on public issues than that demonstrated by recent Republican-controlled Legislatures.

Based on the text of the platform itself, these major developments appear to be in the wind:

Supplemental Unemployment Benefits

"We favor permitting labor and management to retain the freedom of providing for supplemental unemployment benefits and union security provisions according to contracts arrived at by collective bargaining." Look for an early move to legalize simultaneous payments of SUB and state benefits.

Unemployment Compensation Workmen's Compensation

"We pledge to enact legislation which will increase the unemployment and workmen's compensation benefits so that they will be commensurate with the cost of living. Payments of workmen's compensation to those injured should be increased and expedited."

Fair Employment Practices

"We are dedicated to the enactment of legislation and enforcement of such legislation as will guarantee the civil liberties and the civil rights of all people in all fields. Discrimination in employment on the grounds of race, creed or national origin should be eliminated. We favor the adoption of a fair employment practices act with appropriate enforcement provisions."

Minimum Wages

"We advocate legislation to establish a reasonable state minimum wage law."

Aid For The Aged

"We favor removing the $65 monthly ceiling now imposed on old age pensions, and putting aid on a need basis. We shall at all times fulfill our responsibility to aid the aged, the blind, the disabled, the crippled child, the widowed mother, the poor and the handicapped."

Public Utilities

"The old formula for setting rates for public utility services has become outmoded and costly to the consumers. We propose the adoption of a formula for rates that will be fair to the consumer, and at the same time afford a reasonable return on investments."

Mental Health

"We need expanded programs for mental hospitals, retarded children and those persons afflicted with alcoholism. Such programs require not only more buildings, but the recruitment of more trained personnel."

Public Employes

"We pledge our efforts to grant to public employes such increases as will tend to make their compensation commensurate with the benefits and wages to private industry."

Tax Structure

"We favor the appointment of a commission to make a comprehensive study of our tax structure and to determine whether a more equitable system of collection and distribution of taxes can be made."

Local Governments

"We feel the state should recognize its responsibility for increasing appropriations to the local government fund as it increases local responsibilities. The state should develop a fair and equitable formula for distributing funds which will not discourage local subdivisions from helping themselves."

County Fees

"We condemn the veto of the county fee bill which was designed to relieve the local taxpayer of the burden of subsidizing out of general tax funds the special services rendered by county offices. We pledge enactment of appropriate legislation to correct this inequity."

Highways

"The so-called crash highway programs are extravagant . . . a balanced program requires attention to our secondary system as well as to our interstate and major system . . . the right of eminent domain is a sacred privilege granted to government by the people. Its use in a high-handed, dictatorial manner must stop. Right-of-way must be acquired by negotiation and mediation whenever possible."

Education

"We will continue the standard of state aid provided in the school foundation program. The rapid rise of population calls for an immediate program of technical and scientific schools and junior colleges to accommodate the anticipated increased enrollment in our colleges and universities."

Obviously, some of the platform pledges will cost the state money.

Spare cash in the state treasury right now is a scarce commodity.

For years, the state has carried a comfortable cushion of surplus money, but no more.

The surplus has vanished in the 1957-58 recession.

In case you, an Ohio voter, didn't know it already, this coming Legislature is not going to be able to put off the evil day.

Former Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, with much juggling, did it for several years. GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill hoped prosperity would last at least two more years—but it didn't. In short, we in Ohio have reached the point we might well have reached six years ago.

New taxes coming up? You betcha!

Next: Ohio's money problem.

Group Will Plan BIE Day Events

An organization meeting for the annual BIE days program of the Marion Chamber of Commerce was planned for Jan. 12 during a meeting of the Manufacturers' Council Monday noon at Hotel Harding.

Plans for the meeting will be handled by an industrial leaders action committee and the chairman and subcommittee members will be selected at that time.

The manufacturers also continued their studies aimed at establishing an economic discussion group composed of all interested persons and organizations.

It was reported that most plants in the city plan to shut down only Thursday this week for the New Year's Day holiday. It also was reported that local plant operations are continuing essentially unchanged from previous weeks.

New-York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market's yearend rally continued early this afternoon in active trading.

The market was moving into record ground for the third straight session. Leading stocks were up fractions to more than a point.

The market was higher from the start when the ticker tape ran late.

Motors, steels, rails, building materials, chemicals and most aircrafts were higher. Oils eased a bit. Electronics, drugs and nonferrous metals were irregular.

Reports of increased new car sales and good prospects for 1959 buoyed the automotive section. The steel industry operating rate was scheduled at a 14 month high. World trade prospects continued encouraging in the wake of new convertibility for European currencies.

Goodyear gained more than four in a renewed advance accompanied by stock split rumors. U.S. Steel clipped a fraction from an early two-point gain.

International Business Machines pared more than 2 points from Monday's 32 - point surge. Widemoving Zenith added 3.

American Motors trimmed most of a rise which went to around a point.

Bethlehem rose about a point.

A variety of stocks advanced around a point, including General Tire, Radio Corp., International Nickel, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse Electric and Pfizer. Du Pont was a three-point gainer.

U.S. government bonds drifted lower.

1-A—CARD OF THANKS

WE wish to express our sincere thanks to Dr. Phillip Smith and his staff, Also Marion General Hospital Staff and neighbors for their kindness during sickness and death of our husband and father, Howard E. Dawson.
The Family.

1-B—IN MEMORIAMS

IN MEMORY of Franklin Gerald James who died a year ago today.
Somewhere back of the sunset,
Where loveliness never dies,
He dwells in a land of glory,
Near God and the blue skies.
Dear Lord be thou good to him,
Keep him in your tender care,
Make up for all he has suffered,
And everything that was unfair.
Some day we hope to meet him,
When our days too, are o'er,
On the beautiful Isle of Somewhere
Where sorrows are no more.
His family.

IN MEMORY of our son, grandson, and brother, Jerry Lee Price, who died one year ago today.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sweet to remember him, who once was here,
And who, though absent, is just as dear.
The family.

IN MEMORY of Shirley Cain who was taken from us so suddenly five years ago today, Dec. 30, one we loved so dearly and miss so much.
We lost a husband and dad with a heart of gold,
Who meant more to us than wealth untold.
Without a farewell he fell asleep,
With only memories for us to keep,
We have lost but God has gained
The best husband and dad the world contained.
Wife,
Children,
Grandchildren.
